Producer's Notes: Jonelle Kop

This is my 22nd year with Key Players and the 27th time directing and/or producing or on stage, and I STILL love every minute. Tonight, I believe we have the funniest and most dangerous show we have ever done, and that is quite a statement!

It has been a true pleasure to work with DJ and Jonthan, first time directors with Key Players. They have a distinct vision and passion for this play and that certainly comes through. We have a talented and dedicated cast of eight with 4 more stage crew who are essential in keeping everyone safe. We have been rehearsing 4 nights a week for months to bring the very best they have to you tonight! They have also helped to build the set, find props and costumes, and do whatever we needed to make it all work.

A major shoutout to Cristina Salvesen, our set designer and head of construction. Her architectural expertise, skill and dedication to the show has made this set and show possible. I feel very fortunate to have her friendship and talents. Also, to KLI who donated $750 worth of lumber and CrossFit for set pieces... Thank you all!!

It takes a village to put on one of these shows. From set design and construction, props, costumes, lights, sound, advertising, and front of house. I thank all of the wonderful people who came together to bring us here tonight!!! And of course, The Church of the Nazarene, and the Friends of the Murray Nelson as well as the wonderful staff here, as we would not be here without them!

As we are all volunteers here, please know that the only pay we receive is your joy and laughter. So please feel free to indulge, as great audiences make great performances, and we will all be well rewarded. Thank you for coming and get ready to enjoy "The Play that Goes Wrong."

Notes from co-director: DJ Devante Mills

DJ has been acting with The Key Players off and on since he was about 11 years old! His first show with The Key Players was "Stories of Scheherazade" in 2004. Since then, DJ has gotten to do many shows and even got to work for The Waterfront playhouse in Key West for several seasons. "The Play That Goes Wrong" is his Directorial debut and he is excited for the opportunity to help bring live theatre to the upper Keys. He has had fun directing this talented cast and cannot wait to showcase the talent!

Notes from co-director: Jonathan Bogue

(Jonathan Harris/Charles Haversham)

When I saw "The Play That Goes Wrong" back in 2017 it was a life-changing experience. I saw it with its original writers and cast. It quickly became my favorite play. The humor and world building felt so new and yet so classic and I was so excited to share it with my community. I got my chance the following year when The Florida Keys experienced Hurricane Irma. In aftermath of the storm I brought what was at the time limited recordings of the "Goes Wrong" crew to the Coral Shores drama class and aimed to provide a little levity during a hard time.

When DJ asked if I could assist as co-director, I got a chance to share the play once more. This time I watched our cast and crew make it their own, I started out bringing in-depth character descriptions and what felt like every prop and set piece, growing into one of the largest sets in the Key Players history and I eventually and ironically shifted into playing the character of Jonathan.

This show has taught me a lot in preparation, in working with others, and what to be aware of in my future as an artist. It is my sincere hope that you will come to our show tonight curious and you'll leave elated. That we can make you laugh and revel in the comedy of mistakes and mishaps that our lives so very often reflect. Thank you for coming tonight supporting your local community theater as an audience, and the biggest thank you to all those who showed up and helped us get to this place. Enjoy the show, it's an honor to be able to share it with you.

Caiti Currie

(Sandra Wilkinson/Florence Colley)

This is Caiti's second show with the Key Players and she is really enjoying getting to work with some familiar faces as well as some new ones. When she isn't moonlighting as an actress, Caiti works as a boat captain with her incredible crew at Pirates Cove Watersports. She would like to thank all of her friends and family for the encouragement they have given her, not just during this show, but this whole year and she hopes this show brings you as much laughter as it did for her!

Jessica Garcia

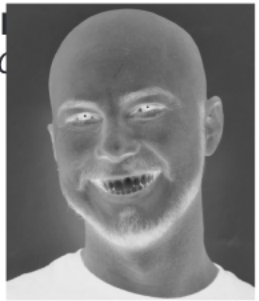

(Denise Tyde/Perkins)

As a long-time theatre lover, Jessica is thrilled to be making her debut performance with the Key Players! Jessica has been living in the Keys since she was 5 and is married to her high school sweetheart. They are thrilled to be expecting a sweet little boy in April! In her spare time Jessica enjoys serving in her Church's children and youth ministries, calligraphy, and watching The Office on repeat. Jessica would like to thank her "niece" Isla for inspiring her to get on stage!

Brock Gilliam

(Max Bennett/ Cecil Haversham, Arthur the C)

Brock is new to the Keys and The Key Players but is no stranger to the stage! He is originally from Valdosta, GA where he was active in every aspect of Theatre Guild Valdosta and has been performing and directing for the past 18 years. During the week you can find him at Miss Monroe's Boutique, where he is the Merchandising Manager, and on the weekends he is most likely in the kitchen baking for his home-based bakery, B.A.D. Bakery. He's excited to join this awesome cast, crew and be directed by his fiancé, DJ. What could possibly go wrong!?

Jax Terras

(Annie Twilloil – Stage Manager)

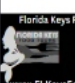

Theater enthusiast Jax, with a passion for motorcycles and storytelling, was featured in the casts of I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change and Sandy Toes and Salty Kisses. When not on stage, you'll find this shy, yet witty, individual crafting short stories that reflect their unique sense of humor.

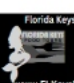

Craig Zabransky

(Robert Grove/Thomas Collymoore)

After watching The Play That Goes Wrong in New York city this summer, Craig was super excited to audition and receive this role in the Key Players' production of the Broadway hilarious "smash" hit. Since moving to the Keys, Craig has performed in multiple KP shows with notable roles such as George Bailey in It's A Wonderful Life. Recently he has performed in Marathon with MCT to play Agent Frank in Unnecessary Farce and became a last-minute Captain Hook for the TVM production of Peter Pan Jr. which provided him a chance to act with his son Mercer. Locally he lives with his family in Islamorada where he takes tourists and locals on the Florida Keys Food Tour (flkeysfoodtour.com). Craig also leads wine tastings, hosts a travel podcast and is a published author. Craig wants to say "thank you" to everyone who helped make this production happen and he sincerely hopes he hears you laughing and enjoying the show tonight.

Jenn Nodarse

Key Players Stage

Although she's stepping into her 20s, her heart remains forever young. She's the maestro of the shadows, often shying away from the limelight. She thrives in the wings, orchestrating theater magic behind the scenes as a first-time stage manager.

When not caffeinating the masses at Starbucks, she's lost in tunes or solving crimes (okay, studying forensic psychology) and if you ask, she'll make you a killer playlist. If you ever need her, you can catch her escaping reality with a good book or perfecting her winged eyeliner. Think of her as the goth-nerd-next-door, with a makeup brush as her wand. Nostalgia dances through Jenn's veins; she'll find it in every nook and cranny; she cherishes moments that carry echoes of the past while embracing the present with infectious laughter. Kindness and compassion are her compass, guiding her interactions and actions, with a touch of quirkiness. Her theater family has welcomed her with open arms and their support mirrors the care and acceptance she extends to others, creating a sense of belonging that warms her heart.
